

A photograph of a dirt path winding up a grassy hill. The path is muddy and has some puddles. The hill is covered in green grass and some small trees are visible on the slope. The sky is overcast and grey.

"What's that coming over the hill? Is it a monster, a monster...?"

New approaches to creating your brand narrative

WHITE CAMINO

Jennifer Corcoran, founder of My Super Connector worked with our very own Melissa Fretwell, White Camino's marketing consultant on the brand narrative for her business. To add some extra bite we applied some of the brilliant challenger brand thinking from eatbigfish and PHD to her world. And so My Super Connectors Monsters were born.

their vibe.

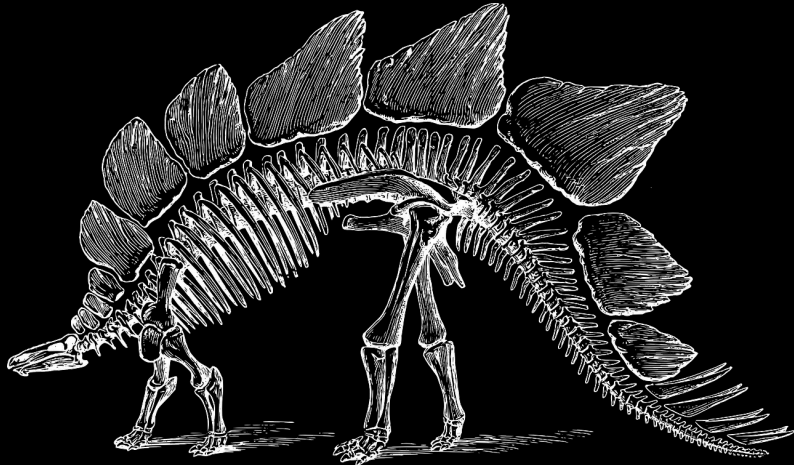

My Super Connector is the reset button,
reminding us LinkedIn is for everyone
from creatives to yogi's to CEOs.
Creatives will shine brightly against the corporate grey.

My Super Connector is warm, approachable and honest. She offers clear solutions and relates to other humans in an emotionally intelligent way.

"Melissa is AMAZING! She helped me to do a deep dive of my brand and from start to finish I was impressed by her professionalism, innovation and strategic thinking. I'm walking away with a far clearer vision, mission, brand positioning statement and an acronym of my brand values which feels 100% authentic and sustainable.

Not only has Melissa helped me to fine tune my brand, she has given me a comprehensive breakdown of my services with clients by segment. I don't have enough superlatives to say how great she is. If you need help with your brand I urge you to seek Melissa out!" Jennifer Corcoran, My Super Connector
